Twitch Glitch & Flap

Kitty O'Neill

Twitch, Glitch and Flap is a 4 person show that can be viewed in one location or as a walk about act about Twitchers! (That's bird watchers to you and me) Watch as Twitch, Glitch and Flap hunt for the rarest and most elusive bird - who's usually right underneath their noses if they paid enough attention to spot him. A mixture of sign and singing in Welsh or English with beautiful puppetery, this show is suitable for all ages, but will make children 5+ and their families laugh out loud.

Meet Kitty O'Neill, the badass Deaf stunt women behind Wonder Woman; thrill-seeker, world land speed record holder and all-round Deaf superhero.

This BSL/English or Welsh cabaret performance grew from a short piece in Taking Flight Theatre's hit show Martha into a heart-racing and hilarious stand-alone piece with 3 performers.

About us

Taking Flight Theatre is a pioneering and inclusive theatre company dedicated to creating bold, inclusive and imaginative work. We bring together Deaf, Disabled, Non-disabled and Neurodivergent artists to create work that extends to audiences across Wales and the UK. We champion inclusivity and equality within theatre and the arts in Wales, providing consultancy and training for the sector and beyond. We bring artists from all backgrounds to the table and develop the next generation of Deaf, Disabled and Neurodivergent creatives. We embed creative access throughout all our work, by portraying multilingual stories, integrating BSL, creative captioning and Audio Description in all of our productions. We challenge the status quo by pushing the sector to create inclusive and accessible work and changing the theatre landscape in Wales. Through our creativity and warmth, we're able to connect with diverse audiences and organisations, and inspire others to think more inclusively.
